pottery with purpose

Chowfancy pottery is handcrafted by Terrice Bassler at her upstate studio in the Helderberg Hilltowns, outside Albany, where she was born and raised.

These vibrant and varied designs are inspired by the country kitchens of Terrice's rural upbringing and blended with influences of her global career in humanitarian development, especially in Africa, the Balkans, and China.

Terrice collected pottery throughout her travels and tried her hand at clay in 2008 when she settled down for long Canadian winters on the island of Newfoundland with her husband Brad, an oceanographer and keen chef. During 2011-12, Terrice was a resident artist at El Torn, the Mediterranean hub and school for potters in Barcelona.

The rest is history...and nowadays a 24/7 passion for making joyful ceramics at her studios in Berne, NY and St. John's, Newfoundland. Pottery with Purpose wares are available only at select retail spaces in the US, Canada, and UK.
